	CLASSIFICATION SECRET
COUNTRY	East Germany REPORT
TOPIC	Information on KVP Units at Droegeheide and Karpin.	an manual fastagous, as a
· ·	614	290
1	PLACE OBTAINED	25
EVALUATION.	LAGE UBIAINED	THE STREET, SHEET, STREET, STR
DATE OF CO	ONTENT.	de in stronger de la section d
DATE OBTAIN	NEDDATE PREPARED_3 March 1954	ed something and
REFERENCE	S	er i producerami, accessore herd.
PAGES	1 ENCLOSURES (No. & TYPE)	en servicio a como de com
DEMARKS		un ermandustrationen
TEMMINO	Manufacture for the first of the second control of the second cont
grader, sopra-tanem and processes are allegated than to assure the		ed a Zast (ICE) Planette (ICE)
теритестиционный горог инициональной интереврат		O.C.
		25
1.	on 13 February 1954, source observed that Section A of Installation VI at Droegeheide quartered a tank regiment equipped with T-34/85 tanks, Section B an artillery regiment, and Section C an infantry regiment. CO of the tank regiment was Lieutenant Colonel Wedde. The units mentioned belonged to Division Prenzlau, which was commanded by Colonel Riedel.
	at Droegeheide quartered a tank regiment equipped with T-34/85 tanks, Section B an artillery regiment, and Section C an infantry regiment. CO of the tank regiment was Lieutenant Colonel Wedde. The units mentioned belonged to Division Prenzlau, which was commanded by Colonel Riedel. Political officer of the unit was Colonel Pfennig. The KVP Division in Frenzlau was subordinate to Armeegruppe Nord Pasewalk Commanding Coneral of this Armeegruppe was General Rentsch. His chief-of-	•
	at Droegeheide quartered a tank regiment equipped with T-34/85 tanks, Section B an artillery regiment, and Section C an infantry regiment. CO of the tank regiment was Lieutenant Colonel Wedde. The units mentioned belonged to Division Prenzlau, which was commanded by Colonel Riedel. Political officer of the unit was Colonel Prennig. The KVP Division in Prenzlau was subordinate to Armeegruppe Nord Pasewalk	•
2	at Droegeheide quartered a tank regiment equipped with T-34/85 tanks, Section B an artillery regiment, and Section C an infantry regiment. CO of the tank regiment was Lieutenant Colonel Wedde. The units mentioned belonged to Division Prenzlau, which was commanded by Colonel Riedel. Political officer of the unit was Colonel Pfennig. The KVP Division in Frenzlau was subordinate to Armeegruppe Nord Pasewalk Commanding General of this Armeegruppe was General Rentsch. His chief-of-staff was Lieutenant Colonel von Witzleben, allegedly a close relative of	F ie ld
2	at Droegeheide quartered a tank regiment equipped with T-34/85 tanks, Section B an artillery regiment, and Section C an infantry regiment. CO of the tank regiment was Lieutenant Colonel Wedde. The units mentioned belonged to Division Prenzlau, which was commanded by Colonel Riedel. Political officer of the unit was Colonel Pfennig. The KVP Division in Frenzlau was subordinate to Armeegruppe Nord Pasewalk Commanding General of this Armeegruppe was General Rentsch. His chief-of-staff was Lieutenant Colonel von Witzleben, allegedly a close relative of Marshal von Witzleben. Installation VIII at Karpin still quartered a tank unit under the command.	Field
2 3 1 1	at Droegeheide quartered a tank regiment equipped with T-34/85 tanks, Section B an artillery regiment, and Section C an infantry regiment. CO of the tank regiment was Lieutenant Colonel Wedde. The units mentioned belonged to Division Prenzlau, which was commanded by Colonel Riedel. Political officer of the unit was Colonel Pfennig. The KVP Division in Frenzlau was subordinate to Armeegruppe Nord Pasewalk Commanding General of this Armeegruppe was General Rentsch. His chief-of-staff was Lieutenant Colonel von Witzleben, allegedly a close relative of Marshal von Witzleben. Installation VIII at Karpin still quartered a tank unit under the command of Colonel Weiss. 2 Comment. Section B of Installation Droegeheide quarters the artill regiment, the AT battalion, and the AAA battalion of Division Prenzlau. Comment. The KVP installation at Karpin quarters the three mechanic regiments the howter artillery regiment, the mortar regiment, the engi	Field ery zed neer
2 3	at Droegeheide quartered a tank regiment equipped with T-34/85 tanks, Section B an artillery regiment, and Section C an infantry regiment. CO of the tank regiment was Lieutenant Colonel Wedde. The units mentioned belonged to Division Prenzlau, which was commanded by Colonel Riedel. Political officer of the unit was Colonel Prennig. The KVP Division in Prenzlau was subordinate to Armeegruppe Nord Pasewalk Commanding General of this Armeegruppe was General Rentsch. His chief-of-staff was Lieutenant Colonel von Witzleben, allegedly a close relative of Marshal von Witzleben. Installation VIII at Karpin still quartered a tank unit under the command of Colonel Weiss. 2 Comment. Section B of Installation Droegeheide quarters the artill regiment, the AT battalion, and the AAA battalion of Division Prenzlau.	Field ery zed neer
2 3	at Droegeheide quartered a tank regiment equipped with T-34/85 tanks, Section B an artillery regiment, and Section C an infantry regiment. CO of the tank regiment was Lieutenant Colonel Wedde. The units mentioned belonged to Division Prenzlau, which was commanded by Colonel Riedel. Political officer of the unit was Colonel Pfennig. The KVP Division in Frenzlau was subordinate to Armeegruppe Nord Pasewalk Commanding General of this Armeegruppe was General Rentsch. His chief-of-staff was Lieutenant Colonel von Witzleben, allegedly a close relative of Marshal von Witzleben. Installation VIII at Karpin still quartered a tank unit under the command of Colonel Weiss. 2 Comment. Section B of Installation Droegeheide quarters the artill regiment, the AT battalion, and the AAA battalion of Division Prenzlau. Comment. The KVP installation at Karpin quarters the three mechanic regiments the howter artillery regiment, the mortar regiment, the engi	Field ery zed neer
2 3	at Droegeheide quartered a tank regiment equipped with T-34/85 tanks, Section B an artillery regiment, and Section C an infantry regiment. CO of the tank regiment was Lieutenant Colonel Wedde. The units mentioned belonged to Division Prenzlau, which was commanded by Colonel Riedel. Political officer of the unit was Colonel Pfennig. The KVP Division in Frenzlau was subordinate to Armeegruppe Nord Pasewalk Commanding General of this Armeegruppe was General Rentsch. His chief-of-staff was Lieutenant Colonel von Witzleben, allegedly a close relative of Marshal von Witzleben. Installation VIII at Karpin still quartered a tank unit under the command of Colonel Weiss. 2 Comment. Section B of Installation Droegeheide quarters the artill regiment, the AT battalion, and the AAA battalion of Division Prenzlau. Comment. The KVP installation at Karpin quarters the three mechanic regiments the howter artillery regiment, the mortar regiment, the engi	Field ery zed neer
2 3	at Droegeheide quartered a tank regiment equipped with T-34/85 tanks, Section B an artillery regiment, and Section C an infantry regiment. CO of the tank regiment was Lieutenant Colonel Wedde. The units mentioned belonged to Division Prenzlau, which was commanded by Colonel Riedel. Political officer of the unit was Colonel Pfennig. The KVP Division in Frenzlau was subordinate to Armeegruppe Nord Pasewalk Commanding General of this Armeegruppe was General Rentsch. His chief-of-staff was Lieutenant Colonel von Witzleben, allegedly a close relative of Marshal von Witzleben. Installation VIII at Karpin still quartered a tank unit under the command of Colonel Weiss. 2 Comment. Section B of Installation Droegeheide quarters the artill regiment, the AT battalion, and the AAA battalion of Division Prenzlau. Comment. The KVP installation at Karpin quarters the three mechanic regiments the howter artillery regiment, the mortar regiment, the engi	Field ery zed neer
2 3	at Droegeheide quartered a tank regiment equipped with T-34/85 tanks, Section B an artillery regiment, and Section C an infantry regiment. CO of the tank regiment was Lieutenant Colonel Wedde. The units mentioned belonged to Division Prenzlau, which was commanded by Colonel Riedel. Political officer of the unit was Colonel Pfennig. The KVP Division in Frenzlau was subordinate to Armeegruppe Nord Pasewalk Commanding General of this Armeegruppe was General Rentsch. His chief-of-staff was Lieutenant Colonel von Witzleben, allegedly a close relative of Marshal von Witzleben. Installation VIII at Karpin still quartered a tank unit under the command of Colonel Weiss. 2 Comment. Section B of Installation Droegeheide quarters the artill regiment, the AT battalion, and the AAA battalion of Division Prenzlau. Comment. The KVP installation at Karpin quarters the three mechanic regiments the howter artillery regiment, the mortar regiment, the engi	. Field ery zed neer
2 3	at Droegeheide quartered a tank regiment equipped with T-34/85 tanks, Section B an artillery regiment, and Section C an infantry regiment. CO of the tank regiment was Lieutenant Colonel Wedde. The units mentioned belonged to Division Prenzlau, which was commanded by Colonel Riedel. Political officer of the unit was Colonel Pfennig. The KVP Division in Frenzlau was subordinate to Armeegruppe Nord Pasewalk Commanding General of this Armeegruppe was General Rentsch. His chief-of-staff was Lieutenant Colonel von Witzleben, allegedly a close relative of Marshal von Witzleben. Installation VIII at Karpin still quartered a tank unit under the command of Colonel Weiss. 2 Comment. Section B of Installation Droegeheide quarters the artill regiment, the AT battalion, and the AAA battalion of Division Prenzlau. Comment. The KVP installation at Karpin quarters the three mechanic regiments the howter artillery regiment, the mortar regiment, the engi	. Field ery zed neer